

Call for Application Professor in Anthropology – Teaching and Research

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University is hiring a Professor in Anthropology for the next academic year, starting September 2020.

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit university that has the ambition to promote high-quality education and research in respect of international academic standards. Furthermore, it aims to contribute to the development of the African countries.

African Center for Behavioral Sociology (ACBS):

The African Center for Behavioral Sociology is a research center founded in 2019, in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences at the Mohammed VI Polytechnic University of Benguerir. The center aims to address issues of social, economic, political, cultural, and environmental importance for public policy in Morocco and in Africa more broadly. See <https://www.fgses-um6p.ma/acbs>

Job Description and Duties: The activity of the professor is divided between teaching and research. Teaching is provided at different levels of higher education, from bachelor to Ph D. The professor will be responsible for regularly publishing in high-ranking academic journals. Resources will be allocated to him or her to carry out his or her research, which falls under the themes of the African Center for Behavioral Sociology. However, the recruited person must be able to attract external resources to develop the research within the Center. He or she is also expected to be involved in the administrative activities of the faculty. The status of the position - assistant professor, associate professor or full professor - will depend on the experience of the candidate.

Qualifications: The candidate must have a PhD/Doctorat in Anthropology. He or she should have a very solid research experience in the field and be aware of the theoretical and methodological debates that animate anthropology today and the different currents that compose it. A practice of anthropology in the Maghreb, and more generally in Africa, is welcome. He or she must have publications in indexed journals, research experience and possibly teaching experience in higher education.

Selection procedure: The candidate must send to the contact below: 1) a full CV, 2) an exhaustive list of publications, 3) a summary of his or her PhD with table of contents and 4) proof of his research and teaching experience in higher education. A scientific selection committee will meet to examine the application files. The preselected candidates will have an oral interview, which can be carried out, if necessary, by videoconference. The candidates selected at the end of these interviews will be invited, during a final phase, on the University site, to present their research and to make a course simulation.

Salary and Benefits: salary scales and allowances are competitive, meet international standards, and commensurate with experience. Subject to certain conditions, the University provides practical assistance in relocating and accommodation.

Job location: UM6P campus is a new structure with modern university facilities, student accommodation and sports and leisure facilities. The campus is located in Ben Guerir, near Marrakech (60 km, 45 min by train).

Applications must be submitted to: ACBS@um6p.ma, by April 10, 2020. Please attach to your email a single electronic zipped folder containing all above, with the mention “Professor Anthropology” in the subject.
