Tenure-Track Position in Psychology- Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Position: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor level

Location: Rabat, Morocco

Salary: Very competitive

Hours: Full-time

Contract type: Tenure-track

Application deadline: May 31, 2021

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit university with an ambition to provide high-quality education in an internationally competitive research environment. Furthermore, it aims to contribute to the development of countries in the Global South – in Africa in particular.

Job Description and Duties: The activity of the professor is divided between teaching and research. Teaching is provided at different levels of higher education, from bachelor to PhD. The professor will be expected to publish regularly in high-ranking academic journals. However, the recruited person must be able to attract external resources to develop the research within the Center. He or she is also expected to be involved in the administrative activities of the faculty. The status of the position - assistant professor, associate professor, or full professor - will depend on the experience of the candidate.

Qualifications: The candidate must have a PhD and show capacity in teaching and research, specifically in experimental psychology, social psychology, or cognitive psychology. He or she must have proven experience in the development and implementation of experiments, and in the processing of experimental data. The candidate must have publications in high-ranking journals, teaching experience in higher education and must have strong interest in applying psychology to public policies.

Competence with Arabic or any Arabic dialect is an advantage for this position, but not required. This position is open to those seeking to spend a sabbatical at UM6P.

Selection procedure: The candidate must send to the contact below:

- 1) a cover letter,
- 2) a full CV (including dissertation evaluations or contacts for at least three letters of reference),
- 3) an exhaustive list of publications and
- 4) proof of his research and teaching experience in higher education. A scientific selection committee will meet to examine the application files. Preselected candidates will be contacted for an interview. The candidates selected at the end of these interviews will be invited for a campus visit during which they will be asked to present their research and give a mock lecture. All of which can be carried out, if necessary, by videoconference.

Salary and Benefits are very competitive by international (including North American and European) standards, and commensurate with experience. Subject to certain conditions, the University can aid in relocating.

Job location: The brand-new campus of the FGSES, is in Rabat, Morocco's capital city. Rabat is a modern and well-connected city, and professors here enjoy a high quality of life with great weather year-round. The UM6P also has modern campuses in several other cities in Morocco, including a central campus in Ben Guerir (60km, 45 minutes by train from Marrakech).

Applications must be submitted to: Recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma, by May 31, 2021. Please attach to your email a single electronic zipped folder containing all the above, with the mention "Professor of Psychology" in the subject.
